

'Farmhouse in Provence' by Vincent Van Gogh. Oil on canvas, 1888

Submissions Open: Jan-Feb

'Summer, the season of life.'

"As we settle into the scorching heat of summer, there is plenty of inspiration to be found in vibrant colours and intense heat. As the earth warms up, summer is also a time of upheaval- for our forests, and our communities."

Proposed works could be literal interpretations of the theme, e.g summer landscapes, or they could respond to the positive (longer days; the beginning of a new year) and negative (bushfires; extreme heat) connotations of the season. The exhibition will run from the 17th of January to the 28th of February.

The deadline for submissions is January 15th. For more information, get in touch by emailing artboxes@erl.vic.gov.au
