1. Introduction

The purpose of the Collection Development Policy is to guide staff and inform the public about the principles upon which selections are made for the collection.

The judgement of staff will be exercised within the framework of this Policy, the stated goals and boundaries of which will assist them in choosing from the vast array of materials available.

2. Collection Aims

The aim of Your Library Ltd (YLL) is to provide a high-quality, attractively presented, usefully organised informational and recreational collection in a range of media that is current, relevant and responsive to the needs of the whole community.

3. Responsibility for Managing Collection Development

The overall responsibility for the collection lies with the Chief Executive (CE). The CE will authorise other staff to apply this policy in building branch library collections.

The day-to-day responsibility for the management of the collection lies with the Corporate Manager – Business and Technology, assisted by the Manager Collections who acquires and manages the physical collection and the Technology & Digital Services Lead who acquires and manages the digital collection.

Unusual problems will be referred to the CE who, in exceptional cases, will inform the Board.

4. The Collection

Access to the collection of YLL is provided free of charge according to the grant conditions laid down by the Victorian State Government.

The collection can be accessed at 13 branch libraries, 1 outreach vehicle and 4 community reading rooms.

The collection is managed by YLL, on behalf of its Member Libraries, and is organised as a single regional collection.

Each library holds a selection of lending stock, including both fiction and non-fiction in a variety of formats, suitable for all age groups, and responsive to the particular needs and full diversity of the local community. The quantity of materials held in each branch library is variable because most of the collection is floating – meaning it stays at the library where it is returned until it is requested at or returned to another location. The amount of stock available at each location is dependent upon the size of the facility, the requirements of the community and budgetary considerations. The optimal collection size for each branch/reading room is set out at Appendix 1.

There are some non-floating collections:

- Board games
- Console games
- Dementia collection
- Family history
- Graphic novels
- Literacy collection
- Local history
- Magazines and newspapers
- Music scores
- Stack collection

There are also three non-lending Reference collections:

- Family history reference
- Local history reference
- Reference

5. Withdrawal of Stock from the Collection

The Corporate Manager Business and Technology, the Manager Collections, the Technology & Digital Services Lead and branch staff will continually review the currency and relevance of the collection to ensure it remains up-to-date and attractive.

Guidelines on the withdrawal of stock are detailed at Appendix 2.

6. General Criteria and Principles for the Selection of New Materials

YLL recognises the need to make available current, high demand, high interest material in a variety of formats for persons of all ages.

The primary purpose of selection is to collect materials of contemporary and popular interest. YLL will always be guided by a sense of responsibility to both present and future library users in adding materials which will enrich the collections.

7. Selection Criteria

Material will be selected according to the following recognised and ranked criteria:

1. Popularity.
2. Extent of publicity and promotion.
3. Demand and need for the material.
4. Relationship to existing collections.
5. Relative importance in comparison with other materials on the subject.
6. Authority and competency of the author/creator.
7. Appropriateness to interest and skills of intended users.
8. Comprehensiveness in breadth and scope.
9. Importance as a record for present and future use.
10. Date of Publication.
11. Availability from approved suppliers.
12. Price.

All staff members selecting library materials will keep these criteria in mind and apply their knowledge and experience in making decisions regarding the inclusion of particular items. Community and staff input may be sought when considering local needs.

8. Principles for Selection

➤ Principle 1

We will purchase items that our borrowers want to read, listen to and view – not what we think they should.

YLL will respond to community demand by focusing its purchasing on new and popular adult fiction and non-fiction, picture books, junior fiction, audio-visual, online and digital material.

Item turnover (loans divided by the number of available items), customer suggestions and holds levels are monitored closely, triggering purchase of new items and additional copies of high demand items. In addition to user demand, selections based on detailed specifications, provide depth to the existing collections.

➤ Principle 2

We will not duplicate the services and materials offered by other library providers.

YLL does not attempt to duplicate the services and materials offered by other library providers. Through co-operative agreements with the State Library of Victoria, academic libraries and other municipal library services the resources of these libraries may be available to YLL members through inter library loan.

➤ Principle 3

As YLL serves a public embracing the full diversity of the local community, educational background and reading abilities, it will always seek to select materials of varying complexity.

In selecting materials for the collections in any particular branch, YLL will pay due regard to the special, commercial, industrial, cultural and civic needs of that community.

YLL acknowledges the challenges that can be faced by those who identify as lesbian, gay, bisexual, trans, queer, intersex, asexual (LGBTIQA+), and is committed to providing excellent service to people of all sexualities, gender identities and sex identities.

YLL acknowledges the educational needs of students of all ages. Text books and curriculum related materials are provided only where these materials also serve the general public or where they provide information not otherwise available.

Legal and medical works will be acquired only to the extent that they are useful to the layperson and not duplicated by YLL's electronic databases.

➤ Principle 4

YLL acknowledges a particular responsibility to collect, preserve and organise material relating to the natural history, flora and fauna, social, economic, cultural and political aspects, both current and historical, of the local area.

"Local" refers to the YLL region and adjacent localities if appropriate. Realia will not be collected.

➤ Principle 5

Selections will not be made on the basis of any anticipated approval or disapproval, but solely on the merits of the work in relation to the building of the collections and in serving the interest of the Member Councils' communities.

YLL recognises that some materials are controversial and that any given item may offend some library user.

YLL's materials will not be marked or identified to show approval or disapproval of the contents, and no item will be removed from the collection except for the express purpose of protecting it from damage or theft.

Responsibility for the reading, listening, and viewing of library materials by children rests with their parents or legal guardians. Selection will not be inhibited by the possibility that materials may inadvertently come into the possession of children.

However, access to particular material may be restricted in response to legislated or legal requirements.

The use of rare and scarce items of great value may be controlled to the extent required to preserve them from harm.

Complaints regarding library materials should be detailed in writing to the Chief Executive.

➤ Principle 6

We provide informational, recreational and cultural materials in the media of the day.

Online resources and downloadable content are an integral part of the library's collection. Providing access to resources in a wide variety of formats ensures access for persons of all ages and abilities.

eBooks, eAudiobooks, downloadable films and music collections will continue to grow and the library advocates for access to new and popular materials.

Where available YLL will enable assistive technologies to ensure people with disabilities and special access requirements have access to collections.

➤ Principle 7

We will carefully consider requests and comments from library customers.

Library users are encouraged to make requests and recommendations for items that are not already in YLL's collection and to comment generally on any aspect of the collection.

A range of avenues for requests and recommendations will be provided – webpage, Facebook, Twitter, 'Your Comments Count' forms.

The results of YLL annual syndicate survey will also be taken into account.

General comments on the collection will receive a response wherever the following are supplied: the name and address; email details; or social media contact.

➤ Principle 8

We will evaluate the effectiveness and success of the library collections through analysis of performance data.

- We measure the success of the collection by analysing the following:
- Turnover statistics for all collection genres
- Circulation (loans)
- Online/digital usage
- Stock held
- Age of collection
- Acquisition and discard rates

➤ Principle 9

We will select materials, partly but not solely, based on date of publication, price and availability from approved suppliers.

9. Guidelines relating to Specific Areas of the Collection

In addition to its general selection criteria and principles for selection, YLL applies the following guidelines to the purchase of materials in specific areas.

Fiction

YLL aims to provide a wide range of fiction of all types, including books suitable for pre-school children, books for beginner readers, books for young independent readers, books for teenagers and books for adults.

The fiction collection will include popular titles of current interest to library users, classic literature, and select works of literary merit. Australian authors will be represented in the collection. The collection will also include a representative cross-section of material published overseas.

The collection will be refreshed with new editions of standard and classic titles if unlikely to be available on demand.

Where demand for particular titles is high, such as in the area of best seller fiction, extra copies will be purchased (subject to budgetary constraints) in order to keep waiting lists to a minimum.

Non-Fiction

YLL aims to provide an up-to-date, balanced collection in all subject areas likely to be of interest to library users. Subject to budgetary constraints, community demand and identifiable usage/borrowing, key retrospective works may be included and replaced as necessary.

Suitable material will also be provided for all age groups, from preschool children through to adults.

Where demand is very high multiple copies of a title may be purchased, budget permitting.

Efforts will be made to fill any obvious or reported gaps in the collection's coverage.

YLL will not purchase course text books unless these have some value to the wider community. In meeting the needs of students for non-fiction material, YLL aims to supplement rather than merely duplicate material held in school libraries.

Large Print

YLL aims to provide a collection of large print books for library users who are unable to read ordinary print, although the collection should be accessible to any library user.

The majority of large print readers are likely to be elderly. In response to demand, the collection should be comprised predominantly of popular adult fiction of all types, supplemented by a smaller amount of popular non-fiction.

Picture Books

Picture books, board books and books for beginning and emerging readers are one of the most important collections at YLL. YLL is committed to the development of this vital collection that promotes the pleasure of reading and the improvement of literacy skills.

Board Games

Board Games will be purchased for children, young adults and adults. YLL aims to provide an up-to-date, popular collection that reflects community interest and demand.

Audio-Visual

YLL aims to maintain up-to-date lending collections of audio books, compact discs and DVDs.

New audio-visual media will be introduced to the lending collection as the technologies develop and demand arises, subject to budgetary considerations.

The audio-visual collections are discrete collections that may complement the book collection, as well as assisting those with sight or hearing disability.

All audio-visual collections will contain materials for adults and for children.

The selection of audio-visual material will be governed to a large extent by the technical quality of the material.

Audio books

Abridged and unabridged formats will be held in the adult audio book collection. Some dramatisations of children's classics are included.

Compact discs

The adult collection will consist of compact discs representing the full range of musical styles. A wide range of compact discs will be purchased that reflects community demand.

Console Games

Console games in a variety of formats will be purchased for children, young adults and adults. YLL aims to provide an up-to-date, popular collection that reflects community interest and demand.

DVDs

A wide range of PAL Region 4 DVDs will be purchased that reflects community demand. DVDs do not have to be based on a book, play or other manuscript to be acquired for the collection.

The rating applied to DVDs by the Australian Government Dept of Infrastructure, Transport, Regional Development, Communications and the Arts is an important guide to the suitability of a title for inclusion in YLL's collection. DVDs rated MA 15+ and R will be assessed for suitability. Titles containing explicit violence, gore or sexual content will not be considered suitable for inclusion in the collection.

Reference Materials

YLL will maintain a collection of 'not for loan' material, that is always available for use during library opening hours at selected locations.

The collection may include atlases, statistics, dictionaries, directories, encyclopaedias, handbooks, yearbooks, government publications, indexes and monograph publications which are the recognised authority on their subject.

Currency of information will be of the utmost importance. Over time, most items in the reference collection will be replaced by an electronic version if available to YLL.

Criteria used when considering downloadable and online resources for the collection in comparison to hard copies are: ease of use; price of electronic versus print; authority; accuracy; frequency of updating; anticipated demand; remote access capability and licensing and usage restrictions.

Family History

YLL will provide basic genealogical reference materials, primary reference tools and guides to sources for family history research, as well as providing access to additional research materials through interlibrary loan or referral.

Genealogical records and resources are acquired for Victoria, other parts of Australia, and for other countries with strong relationships through past immigration links.

General selection criteria apply to the selection of genealogical resources. The collection should be housed separately from the main collection with suitable identification.

Family Histories will generally be accepted as donations but not purchased by YLL.

Newspapers and Magazines

YLL will subscribe to a carefully selected number of high demand daily newspapers and magazines likely to be of interest to library users, ranging from popular general publications to those focusing on special interests. Special interest magazines will only be acquired where there is evidence of sufficient demand and need to justify the expenditure. Given the cost of specialist magazines, where available, these will be provided on line in preference to hard copies.

As the currency of information contained in magazines is of primary importance, it follows that they will be retained in each branch library collection for a limited period.

All newspapers will be reference only. Back copies of newspapers will be kept in branches, the length of time depending on space constraints, but not exceeding three months.

Local papers will be bound and kept at the appropriate branch or donated to local Historical Societies where appropriate.

Access to high demand newspapers and magazines may be provided also online where available, and subject to budgetary constraints.

All periodical and newspaper subscriptions will be comprehensively reviewed annually.

Languages other than English (LOTE)

In response to the small but growing number of non-English speakers within the Region, YLL provides some collections of fiction and non-fiction books in languages other than English.

Current languages held are Chinese for adults and Chinese, Vietnamese, Spanish, Italian, German, French and Japanese for children.

YLL's policy is to monitor demand for this type of material and to adjust the collection accordingly.

Language learning instructions in the major European and Asian languages are purchased in a variety of formats and provided as part of the lending collection.

Literacy Materials

A small Literacy collection is housed at the Boronia and Realm Libraries. It was originally established by the Outer Eastern Literacy Group to support the students they were teaching in the Boronia Community Room and is now overseen by the YLL Literacy Officer. The collection floats between these two locations.

Graphic Novels

Graphic novels are an established literary form that use a combination of text and sequential art tell a story. The content may be fiction, but may also be biography, memoir, history, or another type of non-fiction. The YLL graphic novel collection is made up of core and popular titles that serve informational and recreational reading interests of children, young adults and adults.

YLL will collect graphic novels in English, based on popular demand, reviews, author and publisher reputation, literary and artistic merit. Patron requests will also be taken into consideration when purchasing graphic novels. In selecting adult titles, graphic novels that are primarily erotica will not be purchased.

YLL strives to select graphic novels that serve children, young adult and adult readers. It remains the parents' or legal guardians' responsibility to determine which materials are appropriate for their children.

Online Resources

YLL is committed to the use of technology services that will enhance the quality of the collection by providing more effective access to the latest information available.

Online resources are purchased for the purposes of recreation, education and research. Online resources are sought as (but not limited to), subscription and non-subscription databases, consortia models, eBooks and eAudiobooks.

YLL is committed to increasing its annual expenditure in this area to reflect the continuing growth in demand.
